Dehcho Land Use Planning Committee

2018-2019 Annual Report

Wallace Creek
Proposed Conservation Zone

Message From Chair

The Committee wants an Interim Dehcho Land Use Plan done. The Committee provided quarterly updates to the Dehcho Process Main Table. The Committee sent a letter in early January to the Parties describing actions to re-ignite momentum to complete a draft Interim Plan. The Committee also followed up with Aboriginal governments whose traditional territories overlap with the Dehcho plan area to identify concerns.

Other highlights in 2018-19 were the annual presentation by our summer student at the Dehcho Summer Youth Ecology Camp and the awarding of the Leo Norwegian scholarship to two Dehcho students, Jennifer Gast and Devan Cli. The Committee feels so strongly about supporting youth that they fund the scholarships themselves. We also maintained a public profile throughout the year with the annual mail-out of our 2017-18 annual report flyer to Dehcho households and presentations or displays about the draft interim plan at several forums.

Great news for the Committee was received at the end of the year when the Parties completed their internal reviews of the draft Interim Plan which had been submitted to the Parties in June 2016. The Committee also thanks the Parties for direction provided in March 2019 to complete an Interim Plan to release for public review by April 2020.

If you want to learn more about the Dehcho land use plan, the Committee is always happy to provide a presentation or information. Just call us!

Chair,
Joachim Bonnetrouge

Strategic Objectives

In 2018–19, the strategic objectives were:

- Completing a draft of interim plan
- Preparing for implementation of the Interim plan;
- Supporting administration of Committee

Major tasks completed to achieve the objectives were:

- Assist Dehcho First Nations to complete information sessions with Dehcho organizations to review the plan
- Begin review of comments from Internal reviews by the Parties of the June 27th, 2016 draft Interim Plan.
- New server was purchased to replace defunct server.
